

READY TO LEARN AT SCHOOL

EarlyEd's Ready To Learn program is for children (5-8 years) who have a disability or delays in their development.

The program supports the families, teachers and communities of children who are preparing to start school or at school.

EarlyEd provides early intervention, information and training to:

- prepare for a child's future needs
- adapt environments, resources and equipment to support learning and inclusion.

This will help a child:

- improve their participation in home, family, school and community life
- have choice and opportunities
- be ready to learn.

Early intervention for children with disability

EARLYED STAFF WORK TOGETHER WITH YOU AND YOUR FAMILY TO SUPPORT YOUR CHILD'S LEARNING.

READY TO LEARN AT SCHOOL

EarlyEd's intervention and ongoing support can help with:

- communication and language development
- independent learning
- behaviour support
- self help skills
- routines
- making friends
- family life
- community activities and involvement such as sport, music, after school and vacation care.

EarlyEd provides individualised services that focus on the concerns and priorities for each child.

Flexible and responsive services are offered by therapists and special educators.

Services can be offered at home, school, early childhood centres and other community settings.

In partnership with you and others from your child's community, your EarlyEd team provides services that are best practice in early intervention.

Registered NDIS Provider

Ready To Learn monitors your child's progress through ongoing collaboration.

Call EarlyEd for advice or to find out about our services.

NORTH SYDNEY – Ph: 9923 2727

ROSEHILL – Ph: 9897 1511

For more information go to www.earlyed.com.au